

Imarex Asia expands drybulk derivatives team

Imarex Asia expands drybulk derivatives team
Imarex Asia expands drybulk derivatives team
AdminUser-response@imarex.com

Imarex Asia Pte Ltd is pleased to announce that Mr Nicolas Lim Beng Choon will be joining the Dry bulk broker desk in Singapore on the 1st of July.

Nicolas comes to Imarex from Radix Energy, where he worked as a tanker freight derivatives broker.

Nicolas' previous experience includes working as a Business Analyst with Eastport Maritime, in Technical support at World-Wide Shipping and as a Marine Engineer with Imarex members A.P. Moller.

Mr Arne Petter Kolderup, Imarex head of drybulk derivatives in Asia says: "Nicks experience and contact network will boost our position in Asia and I look forward to working with him to further develop the market."

Nicolas Lim holds a Bachelor of Engineering Management from the University of West Sydney (Australia), as a well as a string of professional qualifications.

To discuss drybulk freight derivatives with Nicolas you can call him on +65 6720 0050 or email: nicolas.lim@imarex.com.

No
No relation

2005.06.30 7:43